

Find a Game Jam

Indiegamejams is a comprehensive and frequently updated list of game jams both around the world and online.

<http://www.indiegamejams.com/>

This subreddit is updated less regularly than indiegamejams, but it is another good source for finding jams.

<https://www.reddit.com/r/gamejams/>

Ludum Dare is a very popular long-running online jam and community. The “competition” (which is very supportive) runs every three months and lasts for 72 hours. The community submits ideas for themes and then votes to select a new theme each time.

<https://ldjam.com/>

Global Game Jam is the biggest game jam event in the world. It takes place every January, with locations all around the world (as well as online) and thousands of participants.

<https://globalgamejam.org/>

Itch.io hosts dozens of game jams at any given time, all online.

<https://itch.io/jams>

Unity hosts Challenges on their Connect platform, often featuring prizes and/or assets from the likes of Will Wright and Universal.

<https://connect.unity.com/challenges>